“ Please accept my condolences on the loss of your loved one. It truly is unfortunate that we experience the sorrow associated with the loss of one we love. However, there is a source of comfort. God's word, the Bible assures us that "the Father of tender mercies and the God of all comfort...comforts us in all our tribulation." (2 Corinthians 1:3,4). It also offers us the solution to our source of distress at Acts 24:15 and John 5:28,29. Please read these verses and feel free to contact me to discuss this wonderful provision further.##imported-begin##Gwen Winston##imported-end##

“ I offer my warmest and sincere condolences to the family at this sorrowful time. Rejoice that your loved one is now in the memory of our loving heavenly father, and John 5:28,29 lets us know that one day Robert will hear the voice of Christ Jesus, and he will come out of the memorial tombs to everlasting life in peaceful and secure conditions. If we exercise faith in the ransom price Jesus paid to redeem us from sin and death, we will one day be reunited with our loved ones who have died. May your precious memories of your loved one bring fond and happy thoughts to your hearts, as you await the great day of salvation. John 3:16###imported-begin##Rita Johnson###imported-end##
