

Rodney K. Williams

June 18, 1956 - June 27, 2015

Born June 18, 1956 in Newark, New Jersey, Rodney Keith Williams was the youngest son of James Nicholas Williams Sr. and Marie (Holloway) Williams. He was primarily raised by his mother and grew up with his brothers and sisters in the city of his birth. He received his formal education in the Newark Public School System.

In search of a more peaceful life and to be closer to his brother James, Rodney moved his family from Newark, NJ to Baltimore, MD in 1989 where he and wife cared for their five children. He spent most of his professional life in the transportation industry. Taking odd job to make ends meet, Rodney did what was necessary to provide for his family.

A quiet, humble man, Rodney, was loved and respected by many. He put family first, spending the early years of parenting as a single dad. He enjoyed the simple pleasures of life, listening to jazz, watching movies, meeting new people, and spending time with his wife Gwendolyn and his grandchildren. Very much like his brother James, he fought a good fight and was in good spirits and of sound mind until he took his last breath. In his final days, Rodney was blessed to be able to spend time with family and friends. He accepted Christ as his Lord and Savior.

Rodney has gone to rest while, his wife, Gwendolyn Williams of 30 plus years, his son, Keith Shareef Younger, daughters, Saeidi Williams, Lakesha Williams-Montgomery, Sakeena Williams, two son-in-laws, and grandchildren carry on his legacy. He is also survived by his two sisters, Karen Rashida Chapman and Dawn Peaks his brother, Kevin Williams and a host of nieces, nephews, extended family and friends. He will reunite in the afterlife with his parents and his brother, James N. Williams, Jr.
