“ I am sorry for your loss. The death of a loved one is such a painful time. This is a sorrow that Jehovah God promises will one day be no more (Revelation 21:3,4). As you await the fulfillment of this promise, may you find comfort from "the Father of tender mercies and the God of all comfort who comforts us in all our tribulation" (2 Corinthians 1:3,4).##imported-begin##S. “ I wish to express my deepest sympathy on the passing of your loved one. When we lose a loved one in death, it is a very painful and traumatic experience. We feel so powerless, because we miss them so very much. Only Jehovah God knows the extent of our sorrow, but he is never far off from any of us to offer us the comfort that we need to help us to endure. At Isaiah 66:13 he gives us this assurance of his loving care: "Like a man whom his own mother keeps comforting, so I myself shall keep comforting you people." One day this enemy, death, will be done away with forever. 1st Corinthians 15:26. As for the dead, they are asleep in Jehovah's memory, and one day soon they will hear the voice of his dear Son, Jesus, and they will come out of the memorial tombs. John 5:26-29. I invite you to contact me at my e-mail address so that I can share with you Jehovah's wonderful purpose. May you be comforted always.##imported-begin##R Johnson##imported-end##
