“ I cannot tell you of the sorrow in my heart that the the news of "Bo Jack's" passing brought me. I remember that my Dear Mother thought so much of him, he was one of her most favorite cousins. I also remember visiting Baltimore as a little girl with her, and he was always so pleasant to me, and treated me as if I was somebody, too, not just a child among "grown folks". I can say that I truly understand what you are going through, so I can say with some authority that the load will lighten as time goes on. The good memories will eventually win out over the sorrow, and your tears will turn to smiles. Our prayers are with you. May God continue to Bless and comfort you.###imported-begin###Phyllis Ruffin Vick###imported-end###

“ Please accept my condolences for your loss. Death is such a painful and heartbreaking situation that at present, we all have to endure. But this will not always be the case. One day sickness and death will be completely eliminated from the world. The bible speaks about this. At 1st Cor.15:26 the bible says, "As the last enemy, death will be brought to nothing." That will definitely be a time to rejoice for all mankind. Noone wants to lose their loved ones, and this was never God's purpose; for he desires for us eternal life. One day his purpose will be fulfilled by means of the precious blood of his son, Christ Jesus. One day the dead will hear his voice, and they will come back to life amid peaceful conditions. John 5:28,29, Psalm 37:10,11, Isaiah 25:8, and Rev 21:3,4. May those wonderful thoughts from the bible give you comfort, and may your cherished memories help you to go on.##imported-begin##R Johnson##imported-end##
