

Rosetta M. Walters

July 14, 1933 - February 2, 2002

Rosetta M. Walters, daughter of the late Lena J. Boone and Ernest Martin, departed this life on February 2, 2002. Rosetta was born on July 14, 1933. She was born and raised in Baltimore, MD. She received her education through the Baltimore City Public School System. After graduating from high school, she traveled to New York to work as a telephone switchboard operator. Then later returned to Baltimore to work for the Social Security Administration where she later retired due to illness. Rosetta was blessed with two marriages and five children. Her favorite hobbies included knitting, reading, and sewing, spending time with her younger grandchildren and helping Bea Gaddy with the citywide Thanksgiving Dinner. Rosetta was a very private person. She never complained about her hardships or her illness. Rosetta found God early in her life and would often talk about the meaning of certain stories in the bible. She leaves to mourn: one aunt, Louise Newman; four children, Toni Douglas, Clinton and David Walters and Janine Williams; one son-in-law, David Douglas; seven grandchildren, Erin, David, Shanell, Adreyn, Tyisha, Giovonn and Charm; and a host of other relatives and friends.

LIFE'S WEAVING My life is but a weaving between my God and me
I may not choose the colors; He knows what they should be
For He can view the pattern upon the upper side,
While I can see it only on this, the under side.
Sometimes He weaveth sorrow, which seems strange to me
But I will trust his judgement, and work on faithfully,
'Tis He who fills the shuttle, He knows just what is best;
So I shall weave in earnest and leave with Him the rest.

last, when Life is ended, with Him I shall abide, Then I may view the pattern upon the upper side; Then I shall weave in earnest and leave with Him the rest. At last, when life is ended, with Him I shall abide, Then I may view the pattern upon the upper side; Then I shall know the reason why pain with joy entwined, Was woven in the fabric of life that God designed.
