

Roxie Mae Taylor

March 22, 1938 - September 20, 2022

ROXIE MAE TAYLOR was born March 22, 1938 to the late Wills and Minnie Dukes in Greeleyville, South Carolina. On September 20, 2022 after a short brief illness, she gained her wings at Loving Care Assistant Living.

Roxie received some education at C.E. Murray High School in Greeleyville, SC, then she left South Carolina in 1956 to live with her favorite Aunt Hattie in Baltimore, MD. There she was blessed with two children (Loretta & Calvin). She met and made a union with Henry Taylor Jr. and they were blessed with a son (Wave O'Neal). She worked at Linen's of the Week Cleaners for many years until she retired.

Roxie loved to listen to Michael Jackson and Lee Williams. She never missed a day when it came down to playing her lottery, and let's not forget her going to the casino. She was outgoing, friendly, and outspoken. She loved to cook, especially for the holidays. She also loved telling stories about her favorite cousin Shug and Aunt Hattie. Her grandchildren were her world. She would go above and beyond to make sure they were ok!

She is preceded in death by husband Henry Taylor Jr., son Calvin Dukes, sister Catherine Johnson, nephew Roosevelt Dukes (Velt), and her favorite Aunt Hattie Jefferson.

Roxie leaves to cherish her memory: her daughter, Loretta

Lemon; son, Waverly O'Neal Taylor; son-in-law, Robert Lemon; granddaughter, Latrina Dukes; great-granddaughter, Ka'Nae Davis; great-grandson, Kalum Davis; four sisters, Dora Green (Lee), Anna Grant, Queen Conyers, and Mary Allen; brother, Willis Dukes Jr.; and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins and friends.
