“ I am so sorry for your loss. May "the God of all comfort" (2 Corinthians 1:3,4) comfort and soothe your heart. His promises, found in the Holy Scriptures, can offer much hope. It assures us at John 5:28,29 that our loved ones will be remembered and brought back to life in the resurrection. Please allow God's Word to strengthen you and help you to endure this most difficult time.

“ I know your hearts are heavy with grief, and I pray that our loving father above will help you and in time heal your hearts of all sorrow. Losing a loved one is so hard to come to grips with, but know and trust that there is a God above who knows your sorrow, and he will give you the comfort that you need to see you through this painful time. One day we will no longer have to bury our loved ones, because Jehovah promises that death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain will be anymore, because these former things will have passed away Rev 21:3,4 Neither sickness or death was a part of God's original purpose for us, and one day soon he will undo the damage done to us by our fore-parents Adam and Eve. As 1st Cor 15:22 promises, For just as in Adam all are dying, so also in the Christ all will be made alive. Another comforting promise from God is found at Isaiah 65:17 which says, For here I am creating new heavens and a new earth and the former things will not be called to mind, neither will they come up into the heart. So even the painful memories of this life will be erased from our hearts. So as you heal from this painful loss, may the precious promises from God help to heal you in the days to come.

“ I send my deepest condolences to the family at this most difficult time. May you be comforted by the promise of the resurrection, and the end to sickness and death forever. God makes this wonderful promise to us at Isaiah 25:8. So soon death will be no more, and we won't have to bury our loved ones ever again. At John 5:28 God promises that all those in the memorial tombs will hear the voice of his Son Jesus, and come out of those tombs. May you find comfort in these wonderful promises from Jehovah God.
