

Sandra Leigh Noble

November 16, 1964 - December 6, 2015

A precious one from us is gone voice we loved is still
A place is vacant in our hearts that never can be filled.

Sandra Leigh Noble was born November 16, 1964, in Roanoke Rapids, North Carolina to Bertha M. Carr (Singleton) and the late Leroy Royster. December 6, 2015, from St. Mary's Hospital in Henrico, Virginia, Sandra was welcomed through the pearly gates of heaven.

At an early age, she joined First Union Baptist Church, where she remained a faithful member until her health failed.

Sandra was employed with Westminster Canterbury Nursing Home, VCU - Children's Hospital as well as Sheltering Arms Rehabilitation Hospital as a nursing assistant. She truly found joy and reward in helping others.

Sandra was a selfless person, she loved everyone and wanted to help others at all times. She opened her heart to God at any early age and before her passing, grew even closer to God. She fought a great fight and was ready to receive her wings to join her heavenly father in heaven.

She leaves to cherish her sweet memories, son, Ramon Noble; caring mother, Bertha M. Singleton and step-father, Willie Singleton; loving sisters, Vickie and Wanda Carr; brother-in-law, Clarence Jones; niece, Chelsea Carr; great niece, Emani Scott; nephew, William Turner, Jr.; devoted friends, Thomas Plummer and Kathy Mason, and a host of other relatives and friends.

“Weeping may endure for a night, but joy comes in the morning.”

Psalm 30:5

“ We can never really find the right words to say at a time like this, other than we all love her and she will be missed. My mom always said that you never really feel the pain of losing someone until you lose your child, that it is more painful than losing a husband, I don't know what that feels like and I won't pretend to, but I do know what it's like to lose someone that you love, and I have been down that road more than I care to remember. Sandra didn't come here to much after Aunt Duck passed, like the others did, so I figure that may have been a little hard for her, but that's okay too. We were still family. Bertha Mae, she was your first born, and she knows beyond a shadow of a doubt that you loved her unconditionally, and the kind of love is priceless, but, OUR HEAVENLY FATHER LOVED her best. She loved working with the elderly mama said, she even brought one of her clients here to visit mama, and ma said she enjoyed her so much, she promised to come back and spend a little time with ma, but she never did. Ma understood she had her own family, and she was okay with that too. She is so happy now because she has been made brand new, and all the love ones that went before her is waiting with open arms. So take care of you, she's okay, and as long as she knows that you are at peace with GODS will, she will REST IN PEACE. I LOVE YOU ALL TODAY AND ALWAYS, Your cousin Deloris

“ I just wanted to give my condolences to the family and friends. May you all continue to receive comfort from our heavenly Father. One thing that has been helpful for me during a time like this is a scripture found Isaiah 25:8. It is very encouraging for such a difficult time. I hope it helps you all as well.
