

Scott Joseph King

March 17, 1989 - August 19, 2016

SCOTT J. KING, son of Rosemary King Green and Kelton Wheeler, was born on March 17, 1989 in Baltimore, Maryland. He suddenly departed this life on August 19, 2016.

Scott received his education in the Baltimore City Public Schools.

He had several jobs but he really enjoyed working at Live Casino. His passion in life was dancing. He loved being in the group, Ravers Of Justice. He also loved to do piercings and cars. He also loved putting stickers on peoples scars.

Scott could hold a conversation for hours about Honda's. He was fascinated by Japanese music and their culture.

His aunts, Theresa King and Rose King along with his grandmother, France King preceded him in death.

He leaves to cherish his memory: his daughter Celestine A. King; brother, Barry Montgomery; mother, Rosemary Green; father, Kelton Wheeler; aunts, Eileen Martin and Roslyn Batty; uncles, Ross King and Rodney King; devoted friends, Jennifer and Colleen; his best friends, Jamie and Jordan; godfather, Kenny Owen; godmother, Regina McCallister; and a host of other relatives and friends.

And his best talk and cars to talk to is Alvin Tellington Jr, his best friend when they were little kids.

“ You were truly an amazing person. You helped me through so much. If it wasn't for you I wouldn't have changed from the girl I was to the woman I am today. If it wasn't for you forcing me to that party, I would have never married my husband. If it wasn't for that conversation that took hours, I would have never adopted my daughter. You will always be in my heart Scott. To his family, thank you for raising the man that you did. He taught me how to love and what having a family truly means. He is watching over us all with a huge smile on his face. I love you all and if anyone, friend or family, needs anything talk to each other. Be there for one another. Now is when we need each other the most. <3

“ I'm not one to mince words nor speak publicly often, but I do want to point out something. Scott was the center point of a huge group of diverse friends. Friendships, relationships, brotherhoods were created because of his charisma and willingness never to give up on someone. With all the hatred and negative in the world that has been the focal point for some time now, he was one to look past it and give everyone a chance. If you take anything to heart from his legacy, take his kindness and open mind to put aside prejudice and judgement. If more people were like him, this world would be a much better place.
