"Buster" (as he was affectionately known by family and friends) was educated in the Mt. Holly, N.C. and Baltimore City public schools. In 1945, at the age of 19, he enlisted in the U.S. Army. He enjoyed serving in the military and often told war stories about his experiences while serving in the Army. After being discharged, Buster pursued a career in tailoring and was known as a sharp dresser. Buster also worked for the Social Security Administration in Woodlawn (Baltimore County), until he retired in 1991. He loved spending time with family and friends traveling, hosting New Year's Eve parties, going to cookouts and attending family reunions.

Sherman was part of a large family, he had many friends, and will be deeply missed by everyone who knew and loved him. He leaves to cherish his memory: three daughters, Barbara Campbell, Charmaine Osbourne, and Lamika Crawford; one brother, John Crawford; one sister-in-law, Shirley Crawford; three sons-in-law, Carroll Campbell Sr., Joseph Osbourne, and Idriess Bowens. He also leaves to mourn: eight grandchildren, Robyn, Lorie, Carroll [r., Brandle, Amber, Charmaine (CJ), Labreia, and Idrieona; seven great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren; a special friend, Louise Williams; and a host of other relatives and friends.
