

Stacy Veronica McClary

September 13, 1957 - August 22, 2017

Stacy Veronica McClary, daughter of the late John and Virginia McClary was born on September 13, 1957 in Baltimore, Maryland. Stacy departed this life on August 22, 2017.

Stacy received her education from Edmondson Westside High School and furthered her education at Baltimore City Community College. She was a dedicated employee at Johns Hopkins Hospital, the Department of Social Services and spent many years as a Patient Care Provider.

Stacy had a passion for helping people especially the elderly. She was a very caring and loving person with a Big heart.

Stacy also had a passion for fashion and she loved to read urban novels. She loved her perfumes and always smelled great wearing the latest fragrances and she did it all with wearing only one earring because for some reason she would always lose just one.

She was a people person and she got along with everyone. She never had a problem making friends wherever she went. She also adored and loved cats. She will truly be missed by all who knew her.

Stacy leaves to cherish her memories; four sisters, Patricia Barnett (late Sylvester), Gwendolyn Hughes, Denise Abdullah, Diardia McClary; six brothers, Ronald McClary, Ruben Parker, Kevin Parker, Ernest Parker, Kelly Parker Jr. and Jeffery Robertson. A special niece and friend Quisha Winslow and a host of nieces, nephews and friends.
