

Stanley J. Stern

November 22, 1932 - February 14, 2009

Stanley Jerome Stern was the youngest of three children born on November 22, 1932 to the late Oliver Stern and Carrie Stern in Baltimore Maryland. After a short illness, the Lord sent an angel to escort him back to his true love who awaited him in their heavenly home. Stanley attended Dunbar High School where he played on the football team. He enjoyed participating in after school sports at Chick Webb Center. He met and married the late Mary Ann "Mickey" Oglesby in 1952. After joining the army in 1952, Stanley served in Korea for eighteen months, serving in his medic unit. After an honorable discharge, he returned to his employment at Johns Hopkins. His tenure continued at St. Joseph's Hospital on Caroline and Hoffman Streets in the accident room and Orthopedics Associates. From their union, Stanley and Mary were blessed with seven children. With a stern yet loving hand, he provided nurturing support for his family while working two jobs. The Sterns loved to travel with their family, particularly to drive-in-movies, New York, Washington DC and his beloved Disney World. Stanley's favorite pastimes were lifting wights, bingo and playing cards. His famous catch phrases were "Be Careful," "It's 10 o'clock, let's call it a night!", "I'm only a tourist, what do I know?", "Who's this when I'm calling there?" Preceding him was his brother Oliver; his mother, Carrie Blackwell; his wife, Mary; and one of his daughters, Sharon Holland. He leaves to cherish his memory four daughters, Shelia, Shirley, Sandra and Stanya, two sons Shelby and Sidney, one sister, Dolores Jenkins, one sister-in-law, Dorothy Wood-Stern, one brother-in-law Rickey Oglesby, 20 grandchildren, 7 great grandchildren and a large host of family and friends. To all of his family and friends, Stanley would say to you, "I'm fair to middlin'."

Tribute Wall

“ Stanley J. Stern

October 13, 2022 at 08:33 AM

“ We miss you something terrible. Not a day goes by when we don't think about you and your funny sayings. We know you're not suffering anymore and are enjoying yourself now with Grandma, Aunt Mickey, Uncle Sonny and everyone else who went on before you. We love and miss you.##imported-begin##Dawn##imported-end##

July 02, 2010 at 02:21 PM

“ I wish to extend my condolences for the loss of your dear loved one. Acts 24:15 lovingly declares "there is going to be a resurrection". Also, Isaiah 25:8 reveals: "He will actually swallow up death forever, and the Sovereign Lord Jehovah will certainly wipe the tears from all faces." May you receive much comfort and strength from this wonderful hope found in the Bible.##imported-begin##Mrs. Sharon Hill##imported-end##

July 02, 2010 at 02:21 PM

“ I send my warmest regards to the Stern family. Losing a loved one in death is truly heartbreaking, and no matter how much time has passed it is something that we never get used to. One day we will no longer have to bury our loved ones, because God has promised an end to sickness, violence, and death forever. Psalm 37:10,11, Isiah 33:24, Isiah 25:8, 1st Cor 15:26. Our dead ones will one day come back to life, and this is brought out in the book of Daniel which says, "Ther will be many of those asleep in the ground of dust who will wake up." Daniel 12:2, John 5:28,29 May you find much comfort in the hope of the ressurection.##imported-begin##R
Johnson##imported-end##

July 02, 2010 at 02:21 PM