

Stewart R. Monroe

April 9, 1934 - February 23, 2003

Stewart R. Monroe, Sr., son of the late Mary Tolson, was born on April 9, 1934. He departed this life quietly on Sunday, February 23, after a lengthy illness with his wife by his side. He was a member of the old Orchard Street Methodist Church. He received his education in the Baltimore City Public School System. At the age of twenty-two, he became employed by Bethlehem Steel, Sparrows Point on the steel side for forty-two years. Stewart was married to Grace D. Garlic on June 5, 1953, and out of this union five children were born, Stewart Jr., Veronica, Delores, Orlando Sr., and Jackie. He loved to care for his family and friends. His passions were cooking and watching westerns on television. He was very well known for his potato salad that everyone loved. He leaves to mourn: his lovely, devoted wife of 49+ years, Grace D. Monroe; two sons, Stewart R. Monroe Jr. and Orlando M. Monroe Sr.; three daughters, Veronica Simmons, Delores McRae and Jacqueline C. Monroe Moore; two sons-in-law, Calvin G. McRae Sr. and Michael Moore; eight grandchildren, Carlos L. Simons, Orlando Monroe Jr., Krystal Monroe, Teaira Monroe, Christopher Monroe, Stewart R. Monroe III, Cheyenne D. Monroe, Nicholas Monroe-Willoughby; one great granddaughter, Dajanai; brothers and sisters-in-law, Frederick B. and Valerie Garlic, James E. and Margaret Jackson, Edward W. and Kathy Jackson, Reuben L. Jackson and Mary Lou Jackson; one cousin, Winslow Johnson and his wife; one daughter-in-law, Linda Monroe; and a host of other relatives and friends.

“ The tears that dampen our eyes in time of mourning are tears of homesickness, tears of longing for our loved ones. But it is we who are away from home, not they! Death has been for them a doorway to an eternal home. They are still with us, lovingly and tenderly waiting for the day when we, too, will enter the doorway of our eternal home. It is such a mistake to see death as separation and nothing more. For us who believe, death is a preparation for eternal union with those we love, in peace and in joy.##imported-begin##The March Family and Staff##imported-end##
