

Sunday Powell

June 16, 1949 - November 7, 2008

Sunday Florence Powell, was born in Baltimore Maryland on June 16, 1949 to the late Norman and Dorothy Barlow. She was educated in the Baltimore City School System. She worked for the Social Security Administration and Mass Transit Administration where she retired in 2001 after 24 years of faithful employment as a MTA Operator. She departed this life on November 7, 2008 at 11:00pm after a lengthy illness and went from labor to reward. Sunday made numerous friends wherever she went and captured the hearts of many. She enjoyed reading her Daily Bread, the books of Psalms and Proverbs in the Bible and found them to be a comfort and source of strength. She also loved to listen to the Oldies but Goodies which was her passion. She loved to dance and draw, but her hobby was playing Keno. She leaves to cherish her memory, her husband, John Powell Jr., three daughters, Toni Powell Owens, Tonya Miller and Tara Wilson, one son, Rashun Thompson, six grandsons, James, Tyrell, Macy, Aaron, Dajuan and Anthony, six granddaughters, Jerryelle, Tarshae, Marquise, Imani, Imaiah and Mikael and one great granddaughter- Auriel, three sisters, Vanessa, Kim and Maureen Barlow and one brother Dwight Barlow and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, other relatives and friends. She also leaves to cherish her memory-a special and dear childhood friend of over 50 years-Joan Watkin

“ I wold like to send a few words of uplifting thoughts. Time move. Our heavenly father cares for you all, 1 Peter 5:7 say. It is wonderful know that some one knows just how you are feeling and is able to do something about it, Rev.21:3-5, no more tears of sadden and pain. In the near future we will not loss our dear love ones in death, Isa.33:24. We have something to look forward to that is Great. May all the many promises from our creator help to make every day better to live with.##imported-begin##lillian Crosby##imported-end##
