

Sylvia Marie White

March 1, 1935 - November 23, 2005

Early Wednesday morning, November 23, 2005, SYLVIA MARIE WHITE quietly and peacefully slipped away to the tranquility of eternal rest. Sylvia had been dealing with her illness. But, her poor body was tired. During her last months she would say, "The mind is willing but the body just won't cooperate." The fourth child of the late James Perry and Reba Simpson Dunlap, Sylvia was born on March 1, 1935. She was born in Baltimore City on Franklinton Road. She married her childhood sweetheart Leviticus White. From this union two daughters were born, Leigh Ann and Michelle Faye. At a very early age she had accepted Christ in her life. Sylvia and her siblings attended Evergreen A.M.E. Church during their youth. She was educated in the Baltimore City Public School System. Sylvia was a hard worker and enjoyed working. She worked at a chemical plant in South Baltimore until it closed. She continued to work odd jobs. Her last place of employment was Super Kids Warehouse as a price ticketer. She enjoyed working with her girls, Agnes, Margaret and Helen. The ladies at Super Kids started her watching the daytime soap opera, The Young And The Restless. She retired at the age of sixty-five not because she wanted to, but because her health wouldn't allow her to. Sylvia was a very independent person. She preached to her family all the time that it was nothing like having your own. Sylvia would say "God bless the child that had it's own." She believed it and lived by it. Sylvia believed in saving-money, containers, plastic bags, glass jars and other household goods. Sylvia was very thrifty. She could make the eagle on a dollar bill cry. The family would always tease her about being so tight with a dollar, but she didn't care, not one bit. Sylvia was known to her family as Ms. Provident, one of the many hats she wore proudly. Sylvia was family oriented. She loved her family and would help out any way she could. Besides being known as the family bank she was the family's own handy woman. She enjoyed house painting, patching up holes with steel wool, moving furniture, weather proofing windows and caulking. When she visited relatives she would always stop by the bakery to get a bag of goodies, especially the famous crumb cakes. Sylvia enjoyed sewing, ironing, planting flowers, watching informative television programs, reading, listening to music and had a love for cooking. Sylvia was a quiet spirited person, who didn't hesitate to speak whatever was on her mind. Sylvia will be remembered for her thriftiness, her big dollar support, her make this house a happy home mentality, her wonderful sense of humor and her handy woman skills, as well as her mothering to family and extended family members. She leaves to mourn: her devoted husband, Leviticus White; two loving daughters, Leigh Ann White-Turner and Michelle Faye White-Palmer; three sisters, Virginia L. Ball, Mary T. Davis, and Shirley Dunlap; two sons-in-law, Otis D. Turner and Ulysses L. Palmer; three grandsons, Marvin L. Harris, Marcus L.R. Palmer and Ulysses Palmer; four great-grandchildren, Tierra, Unique, Erick and Ulysses Cortez; two sisters-in-law, Harriett Dunlap and Emma (Mickey); and a host of nieces and nephews, as well as extended family and friends.

“ My deepest sympathy during your time of sorrow but know that the God of comfort is with you all during this time of tribulation. (2Corinthian 1:3-4) Due to the many unforeseen occurrences that brings tragedy to our lives Jehovah God promises one day soon Death will be no more (Rev 21:3-4) and his son have been given the authority to bring all those in the memorial tombs back to life. John 5:28-29 Just think there will come a time not only will death be no more but Jehovah promises that no one will have to say I'm sick according to Isaiah 33:24. I feel the need to express these words of hope because so many of us today treasure the gift of life and we do all we can to maintain it to hold on to it. That is why it hurts so badly when our loved ones die. With so many of us desiring life today no matter how good or bad it is we still want life here on earth. No one looks forward to that time of death. That is why I am under obligation by the spirit and love of God to share that hope that is in our near future that the righteous shall inherit the earth and reside upon it forever according to Psalms 37: 29 along with the above stated promises on a paradise and peaceful earth. We all can hold true to this everlasting promise because Isaiah 55:11 states all the words Jehovah have spoken WILL NOT RETURN WITHOUT RESULTS. What a wonderful prospect for our future especially enlight of the fact that Hebrews 6:18 States of God, it is IMPOSSIBLE for him to lie.##imported-begin##Carter##imported-end##

“ My condolences to the family & friends of Ms. White. Take comfort in the following words found at Daniel 12:2, "And there will be many of those asleep in the ground of dust who will wake up." Our Heavenly Father promises a time when the pangs of death will be done away with. May this strengthen you in your time of mourning.##imported-begin##D. Spann##imported-end##
