“ Dear family and parents of Tearia, may Jehovah God comfort you in your great loss. Death is a terrible enemy that affects us all, but did you know that this will not always be the case? God didnot create us to die, but to live eternally. Only through the disobedience of Adam is why we all die today. Lovingly, Jehovah God does not blame us for the choice Adam made, and he has made the way out through his son so that all who obey him and show faith in his son will one day recieve everlasting life. 1st Corinthians 15:22 says, "For just as in Adam all are dying, so also in the Christ all will be made alive." Soon as these last days pass, astonishing events will take place on this earth. God will end all violence, which we are all sick of. He will clean up this earth, and make it a paradise of peace once again, and he will raise all of our dead ones back tro life to be with us forever. Who could ask for anything better? 2nd Peter 3:13, Psalm 37:10,11 Isaiah 25,8 and Rev 21:3-5. May God surround with his loving care, and may your precious memories of Tearia sustain you until once again you hold her in your arms again.##imported-begin##R Johnson##imported-end##

“ To Kissy (Tyelisha Chiles) and David (Cooper) {The loving parents of Tearia Angel Cooper-Chiles}: No one can truly ever say [and mean] that what is meant to be shall be. Because we [all are] not ABLE to say it and even moreso "accept" it. It is hard to come to terms with the loss of a loved one and even moreso with the loss of a child none the less one who in our eyes never got the blessing to even make it upon this Earth without losing her soul. As I watched your belly grow months and months on end. I questioned you, saying: "When is that little girl going to come out?"... We have gone through so much and shared so much. Never did anyone expect this to happen. Your happiness is my happiness and your sorrow is my sorrow. But as the pastor said, Let this not be another forgotten trial but an incentive for us to want to do WHATEVER "we" NEED to do to get back to her. To prepare for a child and then suddenly prepare for her departure is not only devastating but a weary experience. It is tiring. So I sit here on this computer wondering the correct words to place, God speaks to me and I hear him saying remember me. REMEMBER ME, REMEMBER ME for I am he who has all you need. I am the great I am, the beginning and the end and all things too shall come to pass. I believe in his word. That he has greater things in store for you and David. Just believe in his word, follow his instructions and one day you two will be entering the gates of heaven while your daughter awaits you with open arms. THIS TOO SHALL PASS....Remember David in the New Testament, he asked not why but what. What if? NOW as a devotion to Tearia; A poem: Entitled: KISSED BY AN ANGEL You were gone too soon in the blink of an eye. We awaited, we were waiting for you to arrive. So as now we sit in sorrow. I can not help but to rejoice as I sat at your funeral. I felt your touch and your voice. Saying I am safe, I am free and here there is no pain. There is no sorrow, there is no heartache, there is no terror nor pain. I am with Jesus, My sweet Jesus who will wipe away my tears as you kissed me upon my cheek. I knew the Lord had sent you here. Many people who view your obituary grow weary but they agree that someone was sitting there softly kissing you on your cheek. Well some say your mother, some say an angel, but you and I we know the truth. That was Jesus right beside you loving you right in the womb. He protected you as he took you. Yes he took you in such peace. I guess he knew upon your departure that it would leave us in disbelief. How unfair we all proclaimed she never got to have her chance. But I now know deep inside you got to do your final dance. We never saw you we never met you but you touched us all the same. Jesus kissed you as you kissed us. WE WILL remember you precious name. So as we visit you as we mourn as we raise all Heaven and Hell we will remember that once in our lives we were kissed by an angel.##imported-begin##Jaeda Alexander##imported-end##

“ To the family, As each day goes by, the pain may subside, but the loss never leaves your heart and mind. May you find comfort from the promises found in God's word, the Bible, at Acts 24:15 and John 5:28,29##imported-begin##Gwen Winston##imported-end##
