

Theotis Williams

June 10, 1928 - June 9, 2002

Theotis Williams was born June 10, 1928 in Littleton, North Carolina to the late Charlie and Nettie Williams. He departed this life on Sunday, June 9, 2002. Theotis was the oldest of nine children. He was educated in the public schools of Littleton, North Carolina. As a young adult he met and married the love of his life, Lyna Hardy. This union was blessed with one son, Theotis Williams Jr., who preceded him in death. Theotis and Lyna were married for fifty-five years. The Bethlehem Steel Co. at Sparrows Point employed Theotis for thirty-seven years. He retired in 1987. He was fondly known to his friends "Otis" or "Kid." Theotis received Christ at an early age at Zion Hill Baptist Church in Littleton, North Carolina where he served as a junior deacon. Lyna and Theotis moved to Baltimore, and he joined the St. Paul Freewill Baptist Church. He was faithful and active member of the Willing workers Club until his health failed and he was unable to attend church regularly. He loved his family and extended family. He could be found at all of the family gatherings. Theotis loved to tell joke and make others laugh. He will be missed by all that were blessed to know him. Theotis leaves to mourn: his loving wife, Lyna; two grandchildren, Derrick Lamont and Antoinette Williams; one adopted grandson, Darnell Massey; three great-grandchildren, Shakerra Brooks, Shiheeda and Shiquor Williams; one daughter-in-law, Lorraine Williams; one granddaughter-in-law, Angel Williams; one brother, Charles Williams, Jr. of Greensboro, North Carolina; five sisters, Helena Pugh of Littleton, North Carolina, Barbara Green of Roanoke Rapids, North Carolina, Annie Wigfall and Carolyn Williams of Wilmington, Delaware and Evelyn Walls of Roxboro, North Carolina; two brothers-in-law, Henry Pugh of Littleton, North Carolina and Eddie Green of Roanoke Rapids, North Carolina; two sisters-in-law, Naomi McKnight and Caroline Hayes of Baltimore; a host of nieces, nephews, friends and other relatives who shared the joys of life with Theotis.
