“ I remember the first time that I met Trina and the indelible impression that she made on me. Trina was a young girl who walked up to me and said, "You are Jacqueline's Aunt and I am her step-sister who loves her like a real sister. "Jackie calls you Aunt Glenda and I am going to call you Aunt Glenda". That is how our relationship began. I will never forget the warmth of your love, the openness of your personality, and the deep conversations that we had. The joy of your personality is what is overshadowing the loss of your presence.

“ No one will ever compare to Trina. She was unique. Our first meeting transpired when she was two years old, resulting in the establishment of an unbreakable bond. We became sisters by chance, but we chose to be friends by choice. I will deeply feel your departure, yet the memories we've created over the years will endure forever. R.I.P., sister.
