“ Dear Family, Please accept our condolences for your loss. Acts 24:15 lovingly tells us "there is going to be a resurrection." Many will be raised to life with the hope of no more death sickness, sorrow or pain. (See Revelation 21:3-5, Isaiah 25:8, Isaiah 65:17) May you receive much comfort and strength as you think on these loving promises from the Holy Bible.##imported-begin##Sharon & Joe Hill##imported-end##

“ To the family and friends, I offer my condolences. It truly is unfortunate that we must experience the sorrow associated with the loss of one we love. May you find comfort and strength from the "God of all comfort" (2 Corinthians 1:3,4) who promises at Isaiah 66:13, "Like a man whom his own mother keeps comforting, so I myself shall keep comforting you people."##imported-begin##Gwen Winston##imported-end##

“ Please accept my condolences for your loss. One day your loved one will live again by means of the resurrection. Jesus demonstrated this by raising people back to life while he was on the earth. You can read the accounts of two of these resurrections at Mark 5:38-43, and John 11:38-44 in which Jesus raised a young girl, and a man named Lazarus. Imagine the joy their families felt on seeing their loved ones alive again. Ome day, we will have that same joy if we do the will of our heavenly father; then we can see our loved ones again, and be with them forever. May you find comfort and strength in Jehovah's promises, and may your precious memories help you to cope.##imported-begin##R Johnson##imported-end##
