“ My heart is hurting. My aunt helped raise me and never missed a chance to tell me how proud she was of me. She was supposed to be here to celebrate my daughter’s graduation, but God had other plans. Even though she’s no longer here physically, I know her love and spirit will always be with us. I’m forever grateful for every lesson, every hug, and every word of encouragement she gave me. Rest peacefully, Auntie. You will always be loved and deeply missed. 💔🕊️

“ Dear Vivian and Family,

Vivian hired me at Mary Washington, and it truly changed my life for the better. She welcomed me onto the HRIS team and immediately made me feel like part of the MW family. As time went on, we learned more about each other, and it felt as though we had known one another for years. Even though I work remotely, many miles away, she made the distance feel nonexistent.

Through our conversations, we discovered that we each had a family member facing the same illness—her loved one was diagnosed not long after I started. We bonded deeply over that shared experience, shedding tears together and even bringing our family members together to support one another. We also shared a love of gardening and flowers, sharing stories, recipes, and canning secrets.

I will miss our conversations dearly. Vivian had a way of lighting up every room with her contagious energy. She always put others first and could find light in any difficult situation. During her time here on earth, she was truly an earth angel who touched so many lives for the better!

One of my favorite quotes from her—one I even used in meetings with her—was: “Every conversation is an opportunity.” It’s so true, not just at work, but in every part of life.

Dear Vivian, I will miss you greatly, I already miss our talks!

I just planted my garden, and I know you can see it from heaven!

Until we meet again for our next chat... sending love and light to you and your family. ❤️

“ Our heartfelt condolences go out to Melissa and the entire Pair family. We met Vivian over ten years ago at Brookland Baptist Church in Columbia, SC, during a training seminar. That day, Vivian’s friendly spirit instantly put everyone at ease; her warm presence turned a gathering of strangers into a circle of friends. Vivian’s career required her to move to various locations. Each move brought new connections and friendships into her life. When we visited her in Maryland, she introduced us to Betty and Sam, her cherished friends, who soon became wonderful additions to our own circle. Vivian’s ability to build lasting relationships wherever she went was a testament to her warmth and consideration. Wherever Vivian resided, her domicile was beautifully decorated, she had a fabulous fashion sense and always chose great restaurants. The loss of someone as special as Vivian is impossible to prepare for. Yet, I believe the love of family, the support of friends, and God’s grace and mercy will help sustain you. Together with Melissa, they thoughtfully organized the Family and Friends celebration, ensuring that every detail reflected her love for those around her. On September 20, 2025, Vivian warmly acknowledged friends from near and far, making everyone feel cherished. Vivian’s spirit, and the thoughtful moments she created for all of us will live on in our memories.

“ I am saddened to hear this news. I met Vivian when she worked in Maryland as a Training Manager. She always greeted others with a smile, often followed by a laugh. Vivian was truly one of the most joyful people I've met. I pray her family finds peace and comfort in the many memories she leaves behind. Michele Segres
