

Wallace Davis

April 17, 1941 - October 19, 2025

Wallace Davis slipped into eternal rest on Sunday, October 19, 2025. He was the second born of three sons. He was born on April 17, 1941, to the late Alexander Davis and Mary Ella Davis in Fairfax, North Carolina.

Wallace was educated in the Baltimore City School system. He attended the elementary school at House #135 and Dunbar High School. He received his GED later on in life and went on to receive his Associates of Arts Degree in Social Work at Sojourner Douglas College

.Wallace rededicated his life of Christ and accepted HIM as his personal savior. He was a member of his church, Sweet Prospect Baptist Church under the leadership of Rev. Tushina Yameny. He served on the Male Chorus and was a faithful member attending church regularly until his health would not permit him to do so.

Wallace held several jobs throughout his lifetime. He worked at Belvedere Towers as a doorman after that he was an Alcoholic Anonymous counselor for Changing Directions and had responsibility of several transition houses for who had men an issue with substance abuse He served as house supervisor for Good Will Industries of Maryland and a janitorial supervisor at the Social Security Administration Building.

Wallace loved family gatherings, fishing, watching the Equalizer (Queen Latifia) and sports especially the Ravens and loved turning large branches he found into wonderful walking sticks.

Wallace did not have any biological children, but he helped raise four Sonia, Tommy, Tammy and Travis. He was a great asset to the family and a huge instrumental part in assisting with their upbringing. He was affectionally known as Uncle Wallace and Fat man by them.

Preceding him in death are his parents: Alexander Davis, Sr. and Mary Ella Davis. Brothers: Alexander Davis, Jr. and John Edward Davis, along with other precious family members.

Wallace leaves to cherish his memory his faithful friend of 56 years and caregiver, Sylvia (Lillie affectionally called by him). Stepsister Eunice Ford, a very close friend Delores, family, church members and friends.
