“ Please accept my condolences for the loss of your dear loved one. Job 14:14,15 lovingly reveals: "If an able-bodied man dies can he live again?...I shall wait, Until my relief comes. You will call, and I myself shall answer you. For the work of your hands you will have a yearning." May you receive much comfort and strength from this resurrection hope by Jehovah God through his Son Jesus Christ.##imported-begin##Mrs. Sharon Hill##imported-end##

“ I send my deep condolences to the family at this time. The pain associated with the death of a loved one can be truly overwhelming and so hard to come to terms with. Look to our loving heavenly father for comfort, because he will never leave you or never forsake you. He is always by our side in times of trouble, and from the comfort and strength he supplies, we can endure all trials. One day he promises to end all sickness and death, and wipe out every tear from our eyes. Rev 21,4. Those who have died will be raised up back to life, because death was never Jehovah's purpose for us. The apostle Paul believed in the resurrection, and he wrote: "And I have hope towards God that there is going to be a resurrection of both the righteous and the unrighteous. One day Walter will come to life again, as well as millions of others who have died over the centuries. At John 11:25 Jesus said something truly wonderful. He said, "I am the resurrection and the life. "Everyone exercising faith in me, even though he dies, will come to life." May you receive much comfort as you reflect on the scriptures, and may your cherished memories of Walter help you to go on. I offer a home bible study program, which endeavors to help others understand God's purpose. If you are interested in having a bible study, please contact me at my e-mail address.##imported-begin##R Johnson##imported-end##
