

Warfield Marvin Davis

February 24, 1929 - September 6, 2010

WARFIELD MARVIN DAVIS was born on February 24, 1929 in Baltimore, Maryland to the late Warfield C. and Hattie Davis. He departed this life on September 6, 2010.

He attended public schools in Baltimore City as well as Cortez Peters. At an early age, He decided to serve his country by enlisting in the United States Army. He loved telling stories about his days in the service.

Warfield worked for several employers throughout his lifetime. He worked for the Baltimore City Department of Recreation until his retirement in 1992; Camp Manufacturing until its closure; and for Burns Security at Greenhill Housing as a security guard where everyone knew him as “Capt. Davis”. Of all the jobs he held, SECURITY WAS HIS PASSION.

“ARTHUR” OR “UNCLE BUDDY” as he was affectionately known was a very private man. He loved spending time with his family, listening to jazz music, watching John Wayne movies, westerns and war documentaries. He also enjoyed watching boxing matches and his beloved Ravens.

“ARTHUR” leaves to mourn: his wife, Joyce; two daughters, Sandra and Tern; one son, Artie; two granddaughters, Brandi and Alexis; one great-grandson, Nathan; one sister, Bernice; one brother, Herb; a brother-in-law, Reggie; a sister-in-law, Jean; nieces, nephews and a host of other relatives and friends.
