“ Please accept my sincere condolences for your loss. Death seems to be so final, and it's like an unreality to know that we cannot see our loved one anymore. God never intended for us to experience the pain of losing a loved one, and his purpose is to put a permanant end to sickness and death in the very near future. Jesus brought many people back to life while he was on earth to demonstrate how he will use the power bestowed upon him by his father, Jehovah to bring many people back to life in the near future as king of God's kingdom. John 5:26-29 says, "For just as the father has life in himself, so he has granted also to the Son to have life in himself. "And he has given him authority to do judging, because Son of man he is. "Donot marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out, those who did good things to a ressurection of life." So dear family, the scriptures show that death is not the permanant end of life, because by means of the ressurection many will soon come back to life again. May the thought of one day seeing Warren aagain sustain you, and help you to cope with losing him.##imported-begin##R Johnson##imported-end##

“ Please accept my sincere sympathy. The sorrow we feel when we lose someone we love can seem to go on forever. It may seem like there is no source of relief. Be assured that there is one that will provide us with relief, "the Father of tender mercies and the God of all comfort" (2 Corinthians 1:3,4). We only have to ask. He promises us that there will soon be an end to death, (Rev 21:3,4) and a resurrection for those who have fallen asleep in death (John 5:28,29). These promises were made by the "God who cannot lie." Titus 1:2. I would love to discuss these and other wonderful provisions with you. Please contact me if you are interested.##imported-begin##Gwen Winston##imported-end##
