

Wayne Woodlon

November 22, 1951 - November 16, 2020

WAYNE J. WOODLON, son of the late Dorothy M. and Milburn F. Woodlon, was born on November 22, 1951 in Baltimore, Maryland. He departed this life on November 17, 2020 after a lengthy illness.

Wayne was educated in the Baltimore City Public School System, and graduated from Baltimore City College in 1969. After high school, he enlisted in the Air Force in 1970. After serving four years, he was discharged in 1974 with honors. He started working for the U.S. Postal Service and retired after over 30 years of service.

In his youth, he played basketball, and enjoyed going fishing on the Chesapeake Bay, and the waters off Ocean City, MD. He also liked to read, working on and making computers.

Wayne is survived by his son, Stephen J. Woodlon; eight grandchildren; two brothers, Jerry M. Woodlon and Keith D. Woodlon; devoted cousin, Ida Morsell (Sissie); and a host of other relatives and friends.

The Lord shall preserve thy going out, and thy coming in,
from this time, forth and evermore.

“ I can remember Wayne driving from Baltimore up to Boston the summer of maybe 1977 or actually maybe a 1976 and surprise me and he had a brand new car and found me live in a Portuguese neighborhood outside of Cambridge Massachusetts waiting on taught me how to shoot backwards so that I could actually basically literally shoot while with my back face and with my back to the basket I just love him to death always looked out for me he's a little older than I am and but we used to just play ball every Saturday morning I'd I came home from Harvard one Summer on a Friday drove all night to make a Saturday morning basketball game in fact I fell out on Turkey was there and Wayne and JD and just a whole bunch of us from the neighborhood so there's nothing that we can't do you know literally nothing we can't do when we according to God's plan so I'm sorry to lose my friend and I'll definitely see him on the other side
