

Wendell D. Garland

February 16, 1928 - October 21, 2019

Wendell De Earney Garland, son of the late Edna Matthews and Clarence Garland, was born on February 16, 1928 and departed this life October 21, 2019. Wendell was educated in the Baltimore City Public School System. Upon graduating from high school, he joined the U.S. Army and received an honorable discharge.

After returning home he had various jobs, including working as a maintenance supervisor at apartment buildings around the area and managing several bowling alleys. In fact, for years, he worked at the Walbrook Bowling Alley and later the Lafayette Bowling Alley.

He was an avid duckpin bowler, and he was a part of several bowling leagues. He was also an avid reader and was well-versed in many subjects. Whenever you saw him, he often had a newspaper or magazine and could tell you exactly what was happening in the United States and around the world. He was also a coffee aficionado. He loved to drink coffee and could tell of various types of coffees from around the globe. He was giving, kind and often purchased and shared gifts with his loved ones. He also loved to cook and bake. He was known to make special treats and dinners just to share with family, friends, and neighbors.

Wendell was preceded in death by his parents, sister Faye Jason and brother

Donald Matthews Sr. He leaves to cherish his memories one brother, Edward Matthews Jr., six sisters, Sylvia Butler, Beverly Jones, Audrey Matthews, Zelda Matthews, Ursula Pratt and Evyonne Sinclair; a host of nieces and nephews, and cousins as well as loving friends and bowling buddies.
