

William A. Hughes

July 27, 1952 - January 17, 2004

William A. Hughes, Sr., fondly known as “Woo” was the son of Doris P Hughes and the late William Buddy Hughes. He was born on July 27, 1952 in Baltimore, Maryland. After a short but devastating illness, Woo entered his eternal rest on Saturday, January 17, 2004. Woo received his education at Lake Clifton High School and later completed two years of college at New York university. He held various jobs. He most recent job was as a cashier at Towson University. Woo was a fun loving guy, who loved to watch and catch fish. On each fishing expedition, he would say that he would be the one to catch the “big one.” Well...Like most men, he loved sports, playing card, hanging out and just shooting the breeze. “But in all he would drink the best of you under the table.” He always looked forward to a festive Super Bowl Sunday with the gang. He loved to spend a quite evening listening to oldies with his life companion, Evelyn. Woo could put a hurting on eating a piece of chocolate cake. He enjoyed watching the Lifetime movie channel. Woo was a person that once he got to know you, he treasured your friendship. He loved all of you from the bottom of his heart. Woo had an unwavering amount of strength even through his illness. He was a soldier. All the family looked to him for advice and leadership and he loved his family no matter the circumstances. Woo spoke his mind and he loved to crack jokes. Everyone he ever came in contact with will remember his generous smile. Cherishing fond memories are his devoted mother, Doris Hughes; his children, Tanya, William and Albert Hughes; his sisters, Mary Gaitheright, Joanne Hughes and the late

Deborah Bullock; his brother, Arnold Hughes; his aunts, Anna Bristow and Mary Ella; his grandchildren, and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, as well as, many friends. He also leaves to mourn a devoted companion, Evelyn Dorsey and her family. Charles, Kevin and Michael will too miss the guy's night out with Woo.
