“ May you be comforted by the God of all comfort and tender mercies during this difficult time. 2nd Cor 1:3,4. The bible promises that one day there will be no more sickness and death on the earth, because according to the Lord's prayer; God's will will be done on earth, just as it is in heaven. When Lazarus died, Jesus told Marth and Mary that their brother would rise. Then he made this profound statement: "I am the ressurection and the life." "He that exercises faith in me, even though he dies; will come to life. John 11:23-25. Jehovah God has given his son this authority to bring the dead back to life. At John 5:25-29 tells us this: "The hour is coming when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God and those who have given heed will live." "For just as the father has life in himself, so he has granted also to the Son to have life in himself. "And he has given him authority to do judging, because Son of man he is." "Donot marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out." May you find comfort in God's promises, which will surely come true, because they come from the God of truth. Heb:6,18, and Isaiah 55,11.##imported-begin##R Johnson##imported-end##

“ Please accept my sincere sympathy during your time of grief. Even though this is a sad time, you can be comforted by the wonderful Christian hope of the resurrection. Jesus promises at John 11:25: " I am the resurrection and the life. He that exercises faith in me, even though he dies, will come to life." Yes Jehovah gave is only-begotten Son on our behalf so that we can experience many blessings under His Kingdom. One of those blessings will be seeing the dead live again. Meditating on such promises can build us up when sadness lays heavy on us.##imported-begin##A.
