“ Please accept my heartfelt condolences at this most difficult time. We never want to lose our loved ones in death; it is truly the most heartbreaking thing we have to endure in this life. Does God desire such pain for us? Believe me, this was never his purpose for us. We can see that by the way he created Adam and Eve. they didn't want for anything, and had their every desire fulfilled. Sadly, they didnot appreciate what God had done for them so they lost perfection and everlasting life for themselves and their offspring. Yet God's purpose has not changed, and one day all the good things he purposed for people will come to pass. At Isaiah 65:17 he makes this promise, "For here I am creating new heavens and a new earth, and the former things will not be called to mind; neither will they come up into the heart. The dead ones will live again, because Daniel 12,2 says, "There will be many of those asleep in the ground of dust who will wake up, and Acts 24:15 says that there will be a ressurection of both the righteous and the unrighteous." As you reflect on these promises, trust in Jehovah God for comfort and an end to all sorrow and grief, because he cares deeply for you. 1st Peter 5,7 One day your William will come to life again. Take care.##imported-begin##R Johnson##imported-end##
