

William Carrington March

February 4, 1923 - August 2, 2002

THE MAN William C. March, the son of the late Rev. Carrington and Georgia March, was born on February 4, 1923 in Mount Pleasant, North Carolina. He departed this life and went to Glory on Friday, August 2, 2002 after a long illness, surrounded by his immediate family.

At the age of five, his father's Lutheran ministry brought him to live in Baltimore. Raised in East Baltimore, he attended both Dunbar and Douglass High Schools. He was a veteran of World War II and the Korean Conflict. He attained the rank of Master Sergeant. He recently received a commendation and the Jubilee Medal from France for his participation in the invasion of Normandy. Using his benefits under the GI Bill, he attended the American Academy of Mortuary Science in New York. Finding it difficult to obtain an apprenticeship to get his mortuary license, he worked for the U.S. Postal Service to support his family. He continued to pursue his goal of becoming a funeral director for the sake of providing a quality education for his children. He worked at the post office at night and build his funeral business during the day. He retired from government service after more than thirty years.

Mr. March is survived by his business partner and wife of fifty-nine years, Julia Roberta March, four children; Cynthia March-Malloy, Erich W. March, Victor C. March, Sr., and Annette March-Grier, thirteen grandchildren; one sister, Doris Wright, and one brother, Edward March; two daughters-in-law, Priscilla W.

March and A. Lola March; two sons-in-law, Dr. Walter N. Malloy and Arthur D. Grier and a host of other relatives.

THE ENTREPRENEUR William was the founder of March Funeral Homes, one of the largest African-American owned funeral service companies in the United States. He started his family owned funeral business in 1957 in a single row house on East North Avenue. The business grew steadily until 1978 when the firm moved to a newly constructed funeral home that occupied an entire city block. In 1985, Mr. March built a second facility in West Baltimore. Mr. March received numerous awards and recognition as a leader in the funeral industry for his innovation and his commitment to providing dignified services for everyone regardless of their financial situation. In 1973, in partnership with three other funeral directors, he founded King Memorial Park, a 50-acre cemetery in Baltimore County catering the African-American community. In 1992, the March family acquired ownership of the cemetery and recently expanded it to 154 acres making it the largest black owned cemetery in the country.

Mr. March was a co-founder and the first Chairman of the Board of the Harbor Bank of Maryland, Maryland's first minority owned commercial bank. Currently, the bank controls more than $200 million dollars in assets and is listed in Black Enterprise Magazine's top performing minority controlled financial institutions. THE SERVANT Known as "the funeral director with a heart", his reputation for helping families bury love ones when they had little money for such needs spread throughout Baltimore. His belief that providing funeral service was not just a profession but a ministry and that all God's children deserved dignified burial. As a young man he admired his sister, Thelma, and her academic achievements. He sold newspapers before dawn to help pay for his sister's college tuition. When she died in a tragic fire during her first year of college he vowed to cherish her memory by helping others to attend college. He fulfilled that vow in 1982 when he established the Thelma

March Scholarship Foundation. The foundation provides scholarships to college bound students from historically black Dunbar and Douglass High Schools. To date the foundation has helped forty students attend the college of their choice. He also made it possible for more than forty individuals to achieve their dream of becoming licensed morticians by assisting them with tuition to attend Mortuary School. Many of them now have gone on to start their own businesses. Known for his generosity and civic-minded activities,

Mr. March helped the effort to restore the Orchard Street Church, a historic landmark that was used to shelter slaves on their way to freedom along the Underground Railroad. He supported numerous charities and countless churches and his many acts of kindness will go forever unnoticed and unpublicized.

THE HUSBAND He met the love of his life at the age of fourteen in 1937. He married his childhood sweetheart, Julia Roberta Hayes, in 1943, shortly before going to war. From this union were born four children, Cynthia, Erich, Victor and Annette. For six years of courtship and fifty-nine years of marriage the pairing of "Will and Bert" has been a storybook love affair. Through the Great Depression, through war, through uncertain times, through financial risks, through sickness theirs has been an unflinching and now undying devotion to each other. He not only made Roberta his wife, but also his partner and together they dreamed, struggled and succeeded. THE FATHER His goal of providing his children with the educational opportunity he never had was the driving force that caused him to work one hundred hours a week, during the day at the funeral home and at night at the post office. He never asked that any of his children should work in the funeral business, but rather that they pursue their own dreams. Needless to say, after all his children received the quality education he worked so tirelessly to obtain, they all followed in his footsteps and furthered their education in mortuary science and are all licensed morticians. He raised his children to help bereaved families in their time of need whenever help is needed and to use whatever talents they have to give service to the community. Giving back was his philosophy and he instilled that philosophy in his children. All of them serve in some capacity with charitable organizations and community revitalization efforts. In 1988, at the age of 65, Mr. March demonstrated fatherly confidence in his children and retired. He turned the daily operation and administration responsibilities of the business over to them and continued to watch and guide with fatherly love and pride as the business continued to flourish.

THE BELIEVER The son of a minister, he took the Bible at its word. He proved it true to its promise. His favorite passages were Proverbs 3:5-6 and Matthew 25:34-40. His life was based on his trust in God and having a charitable heart for his fellow man. His father, the late Reverend Carrington March, was the Associate Pastor of St. Matthews Lutheran Church. After his father's death, he locked the doors to the small church and led the dwindling congregation to merge with Our Savior Lutheran Church, where he served as the President, Treasurer and Eucharistic Minister. He preferred to have his good works go unnoticed. Up until his health failed, he did grocery shopping for some of his elderly clients left without family. He never strove for riches. In his humble desire to do nothing more than educate his children and help others, he credited God with rewarding him beyond his wildest dreams. He always gave of his first fruits and testified that no one can out give God.

He suffered with heart disease, prostate cancer and Parkinson disease, but he never suffered with "Important-itis" or "Big Shot-itis". A humble man, he was uncomfortable with attention and shunned the spotlight. Yet, he was exalted and walked where few have gone. To God be the Glory.

“ Dear Victor, I was truly sorry to hear of your Dad's passing. When we went to Nancy's this summer, I was told you had to turn around and return home to an illness in the family, but was unaware of the nature of that situation. It wasn't until I spoke with Dori last week that I heard about what had actually happened. Please excuse my lateness in offering you my condolences. I lost my Dad when I was 26, and there are times when it still hurts almost 30 years later. I'm sure you must have been closer than that as you worked together through these years. Once again, my profound sorrow for you and your entire family.###imported-begin###Dick Mandy###imported-end##

“ Earth has no sorrow that Heaven cannot heal. May you have peace knowing that others share in your sorrow. Servant William Carrington March is now resting with his Lord. It is time to rejoice now. You don't have to look at him suffer any more. As Minister Douglas Miller coined in his song, "if I suffer, I'll have eternal life. When I see Jesus, Amen. All of my trials, heartaches, disappointments will all be over". When you all serviced my family in 1984, we were so pleased with the service. No matter when you see a March family member, you are greeted with a smile and a conversation. A friend told me when my Father passed, not to dwell on his sickness, but if I had tears to shed, let them be tears of joy. Look back on the good times you had with your loved one. God bless all of you. May Heaven continue to smile upon you.##imported-begin##Karen Y. Harris##imported-end##

“ To the family of William Carrington March. Sorry to hear of your loss. Death is a real enemy and it is very heartbreaking. But the Bible assures us at 1 Corinthians 15:26 that "As the last enemy, death is to be brought to nothing." Also, Acts 24:15 speaks of a resurrection. So, because of the resurrection, we can have the hope of seeing our loved ones again in perfect health in God's New World. I hope you find comfort in these words as I have. Please accept my condolence.##imported-begin##ruth thomas##imported-end##

“ I can see that he was truly loved. You have made a lasting memorial which means that he is dearly loved to you. Please know that the Bible tells us that one day we may see our loved ones again right here on earth. Jesus set the example by resurrecting Lazarus from the dead. That was a glimpse of what he will do in the future. You may email me if you like for further Bible discussion. I am truly sorry for your loss.##imported-begin##Kathy Bowers##imported-end##

“ He did so many things for others but won't it wonderful when none of us will EVER have to face the possibility of death? The Bible promises us at Revelation 21:4:"And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away." This is a promise that Jehovah God will make come true, and we anxiously look forward to that time.##imported-begin##Lockley##imported-end##

“ A little over 3 years has passed and losing one in death may still pain your family. Just know that God Almighty makes a promise that thru his son Jesus Christ, death will be removed forever! “ I am so sorry to hear about the loss of your loved one. I am only 12 years old, but I can remember the sadness I had when I lost my best friend. If you draw closer to the Almighty God Jehovah by reading the bible and praying to him he can help you to cope with your loss. Revelation 21:4 says....And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore the former things have past away. So you see in the very near future all these things will be put to an end. I hope this scripture will comfort you the way it has comforted me.##imported-begin##Bria Norton##imported-end##

“ My deepest sympathy during your time of sorrow but know that the God of comfort is with you all during this time of tribulation. (2Corinthian 1:3- 4) Due to the many unforeseen occurrences that brings tragedy to our lives Jehovah God promises one day soon Death will be no more (Rev 21:3-4) and his son have been given the authority to bring all those in the memorial tombs back to life. John 5:28- 29 Just think there will come a time not only will death be no more but Jehovah promises that no one will have to say I'm sick according to Isaiah 33:24. I feel the need to express these words of hope because so many of us today treasure the gift of life and we do all we can to maintain it to hold on to it. That is why it hurts so badly when our loved ones die. With so many of us desiring life today no matter how good or bad it is we still want life here on earth. No one looks forward to that time of death. That is why I am under obligation by the spirit and love of God to share that hope that is in our near future that the righteous shall inherit the earth and reside upon it forever according to Psalms 37: 29 along with the above stated promises on a paradise and peaceful earth. We all can hold true to this everlasting promise because Isaiah states all the words Jehovah have spoken WILL NOT RETURN WITHOUT RESULTS. What a wonderful prospect for our future especially enlight of the fact that Hebrews 6:18 States of God, it is IMPOSSIBLE for him to lie.##imported-begin##Carter##imported-end##

“ I went to college with Lora Hargrove. When Lora worked at the funeral home, I would go over to the funeral home with Lora. I had a chance to get to know his wife (Lora's aunt), his children, grandchildren (especially, Carma) and it was always a blessing to see the growth of the March Funeral Business. As a young Black woman, I am proud of Mr. March and the March Funeral Business. I watched it grow over the years, through Lora and consider it an honor that he dedicated his life to his community and family. His is an wonderful example for so many of us. I lost a brother in the summer of 1999 and realize that death is so hard. It is only the love of the Lord and wonderful friends like Lora and her family that I kept the faith. You are in my thoughts and prayers during your time of bereavement. God Bless you, Treda Collier##imported-begin##Treda Collier##imported-end##

“ Dear March Family, Heaven is rejoicing because an angel has returned home. We were saddened to learn about the passing of Mr. March. We thank God we are able to say we knew him. Most importantly, we are honored to say we knew of his work throughout Baltimore. We are grateful that he had a helpmate who loved him for more than 59 years. Together they taught their children to live as he lived; with a spirit of humility, faith, and a spirit of fellowship and love. May the joy he must be experiencing in the presence of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ give each of you comfort. May memories of his presence with each of you bring you smiles. May his legacy forever give you peace. Our prayers are with Mrs. Roberta March and all of the March family members and close friends. With our deepest sympathies, Charles C. Robinson, Mary E. “ Its truly difficult to bring words together about a man who impacted the lives of so many people. I am too young to remember the beginning, but from what I hear, this great man walked as an upright and humble man in the community, helped all that he could, and set a standard for professional funeral service that is respected throughout the United States. Mr. March will always be missed and to the family, I pray that you continue to set the standards and keep the legacy of Mr. March. May God continue to bless you throughout your days ... “ Mrs. March, Cynthia, Eric, Victor, Annette, all 13 grandchildren, and extended family members, I offer you my support and sincere prayers as you walk through this difficult yet joyous time. This time can be difficult because Mr. March's physical presence will no longer be with you and you will miss him. However, this time is also joyous because Mr. March's determined spirit, kind heart, and love for his family and fellow man will always be with you. He lives on in each and every one of you. You all know that I feel I am part of the family (especially Annette's crew) and I feel a loss too. I will always remember how Mr. March gave my brother Tony the opportunity to work for him when he was unemployed. I will also remember Mr. March's quiet unassuming nature as he became a very successful businessman right in the neighborhood. Mr. March provided a strong example of pride, confidence, perseverance and most of all a love for his wife and children for all to see. I am proud to have known Mr. March. I am blessed because I know his family. Remember you are in my prayers and I am here for you.

“ We were so sorry to hear of Mr. March's death. We were able to attend the funeral along with Ruth and sat with George & Marguerite Gonce. The funeral service spoke of everything that Mr. March believed in. We all should live our lives the way he did. He treated everyone with respect, dignity, and caring. We were fortunate to have known him and also Mrs. March and family. We wished we could have spoken to you personally, however, there was such a large crowd, we thought it better to express our feelings in writing. Whenever we were at a MSFDA function, Mr. & Mrs. March always were very gracious and we will always fondly remember this. Our family was especially honored when Mr. & Mrs. March travelled to Garrett County when Don died. The March family will be in our prayers.##imported-begin##Lynn & Carol Newman##imported-end##

“ To the March family, I attended the funeral of your late husband, father, brother, grandfather. I was impressed with the promp-circumstance, and pageantry that took place that morning. Moreover, I recently attended mortuary school in New Jersey and I also work for a very busy firm in NJ; needless to say, I took sick and was forced to consider home schooling, some of my professors cooperated. On the day of my final examinations my body failed and I became bed-ridden; therefore I was given incomplete grades. I did not return to school. After hearing and seeing the legacy Mr. March built and left, all the good times, bad times, sad times and happy times he overcame, I decided to return to complete my final examinations and take the national and state boards, this has always been a lifelong dream for me to become a full service funeral director and to own and operate a funeral home, it was the funeral service of Mr.March as well as my love for Jesus Christ that gave me the strength to contine, Thank you for helping me along the way. “ May the peace of God abide in the bosom of the survivors of Mr. William C. March. May God's serenity and everlasting love give you comfort as you reflect on his memories. As you ponder on the good times you shared, may you feel his presence and be motivated to carry on his legacy. It is rare to find such a positive contribution to society in just one person, but let's consider knowing a man of Mr. March's caliber a blessing. May his seed not forget the works he has done, but rather strive to incorporate goodness in daily living. As the daughter of Thelma Sessoms, who used to live at 1719 Brentwood Avenue, we know first hand the humble beginnings of the March Funeral Home. “ To The Family of Mr. William C. March...I was very sorry to hear of Mr. March's passing, but 1st Thessalonians 4:13 asks us to... "Not be ignorant of those who fall asleep, but to believe that we will see them again". In an effort to express how Mr. March made an impression on me as an employee there in the late 1980's, I can say that he was a simple man who taught me that everything and everyone counted. I describe him as a gentle, kind, and caring man whom I will never forget. It was a pleasure to have known him, worked for him, and even shared a table to have lunch with. “ When I read this, I thought of you, “The real man, spiritual man, is birthless and deathless! He never was born and has never died – “As he was in the beginning, he is now, and ever shall be!” So through the truth, man is set free from the law of Karma, sin and death, and manifests the man made in “His image and likeness.” Man’s freedom comes through fulfilling his destiny, bringing into manifestation the Divine Design of his life. His Lord will say unto him: ‘Well done thou good and faithful servant, thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things (death itself); enter thou into the joy of they Lord (eternal life).” William C. March - what a destiny, what a legacy, what a blessing to have him to call your own! You could feel His power throughout the memorial services. It was a blessing to be in attendance. May you find comfort in all the blessed memories, all the love. Know that we are with you in spirit, and are prepared to provide whatever support you need.
