

William Pearson

December 25, 1948 - November 6, 2020

William departed this life for his eternal resting place on Friday, November 6, 2020. He was born on December 25, 1949 in Summerton, South Carolina and was the son of the late Julia and Richard Pearson. His parents instilled in him a sense of work ethics and fairness. William was also preceded in death to two siblings Masio and Sarah.

He was educated in the Clarendon County School System, where he attended St. Paul Elementary School and graduated from Scotts Branch High School.

William accepted the Lord Jesus Christ as his Savior and proclaimed his relationship with God to the very end.

The young man William moved to Baltimore, Maryland. There he met and married Theresa Andrew in 1977. With a kind and generous spirit, he enjoyed relationships with the children that grew up around him. With laughter in his voice he would recount stories such as how he earned the name Night Night Man. Always working the midnight shift altered William's sleep schedule.

He was employed by Roper Eastern Products while working a part time position at Williams H. Bell and Company. In an effort to enhance life, William began his career as a blender at McCormick & Company.

One of William's most memorable adventures was the 1991 Oakland Raiders vs. Cincinnati Bengals football game. William and two of his best friends Ronald Frierson and Kenneth Shell (brother of Head Coach Art Shell) flew first class to Oakland California. They stayed in the home of the head coach, and enjoyed the game in the private sky box of Oakland Raider's owner Al Davis.
